I have in my possession two oil Paintings, one a Spanish scene, the other a water scene; which are relics of the War of the Rebellion.

After Lee's
surrender, the Union Soldiers (a company of them) took possession of our house and grounds; (in Virginia) and mutilated said Painting by thrusting their Swords into one, and putting a bullet-hole in the other.

These Paintings are upwards of 50 years old, having been in my family for that length-of time; and are said to be works of Art, worthy of mention.
I offer them for sale now, as ill health-prevents my settling in any one place.
From a Historical point of view, they will be of value to those who appreciate-religion.

If you consider this worthy of your attention I shall be pleased to-correspond with you on the subject-further.

Respectfully,
Mrs. J. W. Norris

Gentlemen:- I've had placed in my hands 4 valuable paintings for sale, one a Nicholas Poussin size 33 X 34. The above picture was once the property of Pius VII & was presented to Biamonte, a kinsman at Barcelona Spain, who afterwards moved to New Orleans. I've 3 more paintings that were a part of the Biamonte collection. that 50 years ago was the finest in America one a Joseph Veret 35 X 48, a coast scene off of France. another a rural scene by J. Milhou size 12 X 17, & the third a head of Masaccio said to be by his pupil Raphael. The above are the property of Biamonte's granddaughter Mrs Annie Ogden Brown. The pictures will be sent for examination, where there is a prospect of a sale.

Should you not care for the same can you refer us to some one who would probably buy?

Head drawing is my

About the originality of the Greek slave:

New York Mar. 28th 1887
 To the Secretary
 Corcoran Art Gallery
 Dear Sir:

While on a short visit to Washington last year, I paid a visit to the Art Gallery, and still have delightful reminiscences of what I there saw.

Among other things, I was positive, that aside from admiration of the wonderful work, on the "Greek Slave" I read a notice, that it was the original work of the great sculptor. I now find in the catalogue of the "A. J. Stewart" collection, the "Greek Slave" advertised as the original statue. I feel so sure, that I read ^{the} notice, I spoke of above

in "Corcoran collection". That I take the liberty of appealing to you for confirmation or denial of my memory.

Hoping I do not intrude on your time would like to say an early reply would greatly oblige,

Respectfully Yours.

Dear Sir

As I see that Wm. Andrews has been appointed officially as teacher of drawing at the Gallery I feel as if it might be an intrusion on my part to continue to take advantage of the privilege I have enjoyed for the past two years of Superintending the studies of my pupils who copy and draw in the Gallery I would therefore ask if I may be permitted to continue such Superintendence of my pupils until end of June as I had contracted the obligation to do so, not knowing that any change was to take place.

It would be a loss to me financially should I have to give it up now and I would be compelled to return the fees paid in advance by my pupils - I shall be deeply obliged to you dear Sir if you have this favor extended to me and my pupils -

Believe me very respectfully yours, Susan W. Kelly

To Curator
Corcoran Art Gallery,

Dear Sir:
You

will - I think - remember that I commenced a copy of E. Frere's
"Preparing for church" which I did not have time to finish in the one day on which I could work on it. I have not touched it - to work on it - since; and as we have not had a holiday sufficiently long I could not go over to Washington to finish it. I feel sure that if you are willing to allow me to work on this coming Friday upon it, I can finish it nicely.

Will you kindly let me know if I can do this?

Very sincerely

Sophia Stevens
